(Registered with the Securities and Futures Commission (“SFC”) under The Securities and Futures Ordinance, Cap 571 of the Laws of Hong Kong (“SFO”) to carry on the business of Dealing in Securities.

In consideration of your agreeing to act as my/our broker for the purpose of purchasing, investing, selling, exchanging, otherwise disposing of and generally dealing in and with all kinds of securities including but not limited to shares, stocks, warrants, options, bonds, debentures, notes, bills of exchange, certificates and commercial paper of any description whatsoever and wherever issued, quoted, dealt in or located (all of which are referred to as the “Securities”), and (where expressly agreed in writing between you and me/us) in consideration of your extending or continuing to extend credit to us in connection therewith, I/we request you to open and maintain, upon the terms and conditions of this Agreement, a securities dealing account in my/our name and at any time hereafter to open and maintain accounts in my/our name (all of which accounts referred to as the “Account(s)”) as I/we may from time to time direct.)

I/We acknowledge and agree that all Account(s) opened, maintained and operated in my/our name(s) or on my/our behalf will be opened, maintained and operated in accordance with my/our oral or written instructions, or to the extent authorized by me/us orally or in writing, at your discretion upon and subject to the following terms and conditions.

It is my/our responsibility to ensure accuracy of the aforesaid information and to notify you immediately with regard to any discrepancies. You also would inform me/us of any material change of your information, including but not limited to your name, address, registration status, services and charges.

I/we authorize you with full power as my/our true and lawful attorney in fact, to the fullest extent permitted by law, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Agreement and taking any action and executing any instrument, which you deem necessary or advisable to accomplish the purposes of this Agreement.

I/we confirm and agree that I/we retain full responsibility for all transactions and you are responsible only for the execution, clearing and carrying of transactions. You (including your directors, employees or agents) have no responsibility or obligation regarding any conduct, action, representation or statement of any introducing firm, investment advisor or other third party, if any, in connection with the Account or any transaction therein. I/We also acknowledge that you will not provide me/us with advisory services or otherwise advise me/us in relation to any transactions or proposed transactions. I/We will make my/our own judgement and decision with respect to all transactions and you are not responsible to me/us with respect to the suitability, profitability, tax, legal or accounting consequences of any transactions.

1. All transactions for my/our Account(s) and/or sub-account(s) shall be subject to the relevant constitution, rules, regulations, by-laws, customs and usages, as amended from time to time, of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong or such other stock exchanges or markets or over-the-counter in or outside Hong Kong (the “Exchanges”) and the Hong Kong Securities Clearing Company Limited or such other clearing houses (the “Clearing House”) in which you are dealing on my/our behalf whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere, and to the relevant laws of Hong Kong and such other places as amended from time to time. All such transaction may be effected by you directly on any Exchanges where you are authorized to transact stock broking business, or at you option, on any Exchanges indirectly through any other broker which you may at you discretion, decide to employ.

2. Operation of the Margin Account

a) Before any transaction is conducted on my/our behalf, I/we will put you in funds or arrange for you to be put in funds in time to enable you to discharge any and all liabilities incurred or to be incurred in connection with any transaction in securities on my/our behalf conducted on any Account(s) and will on demand pay to and/or reimburse you in respect of all brokerage, commissions, duties in respect of transactions in Securities made on my/our behalf or the holding or management of Securities on my/our behalf at such rate or rates as you may from time to time notify to me/us. I/We shall reimburse you, on demand, all fees and expenses of any nominee appointed by you and any stamp duty, fees or expenses incurred by you in connection with any transaction in Securities made on my/our Account(s) and /or on my/our behalf or with the opening, maintenance and operation of any Account(s) in my/our name or on my/our behalf and will on demand settle any debit balance on any Account(s). Where by express agreement in writing between me/us any credit is to be made available by you to me/us on any of the Account(s) (“Margin Account”), I/we shall at all times maintain sufficient deposits, securities collateral and margin (including without limitation initial margin and additional margin from time to time required pursuant to the terms hereof) in the relevant Margin Account as collateral for my/our payments, liabilities and indebtedness that may from time to time be due or owned to you, in such form, amount and market value to comply with the margin requirement in respect thereof as determined by you in your absolute discretion or which may be required by the rules of any exchange or market of which you are a member or through which you are trading. I/We shall on demand (whether verbally or in writing) from you promptly make payments of deposits or margins in cash, securities or otherwise, and in any event, within the time specified by you (whether verbally or in writing). I/We acknowledge and agree that the time for payment of any margin is of the essence and if no other time is stipulated by you when making a demand then I/we are required to comply with such demand before the expiry of two hours from the time of making the demand, and in any event, before closure of the same trading day. All initial and subsequent deposits and payments for margin and other purposes for this Agreement shall be made in cleared funds and in such currency and in such amounts as you may in your sole discretion require.

Notwithstanding anything said in this Agreement, in the event that it is in your sole opinion impracticable for you to make demands for additional margin, including but without limitation, circumstances due to a change or development involving a prospective change:

- (i) in the local, national or international monetary, financial, economic or political conditions or foreign exchange controls which has resulted or is in your sole opinion likely to result in a material or adverse fluctuation in the stock market, currency market, commodities or futures markets in Hong Kong and/or overseas; or
- (ii) which is or may be of a material adverse nature affecting the condition or operations of me/us, you shall be deemed to have made margin calls for such form and/or amount as you may in your absolute opinion determine and such margin shall become immediately due and payable by me/us.

You shall be entitled to revise margin requirements from time to time in your absolute discretion, including without limitation additional margin exceeding the requirements of the relevant Exchange. No previous margin requirements shall establish a precedent and revised requirements once established shall apply to all existing positions as well as to new positions in all contracts affected by such revision.

If I/we commit a default in payment on demand of the deposits or margins or any other sums payable to you hereunder, on the due date therefore, or otherwise fails to comply with any of the terms herein contained, without prejudice to any other rights you may have, you shall have the right to close all or any of the Account(s) (including the Margin Account) without notice to me/us and to dispose of any or all securities held for or on behalf of me/us and to apply the proceeds thereof and any cash deposit(s) to pay you all outstanding balances owing to you. Any monies remaining after such application shall be refunded to me/us.

You have your absolute discretion not to provide credit facility to me/us or even to terminate the credit facility. In particular, you may terminate the credit facility if I/we am/are in default of any provisions of this Agreement, or if the withdrawal or non-renewal of my/our authorization to you as required by the Securities and Futures (Client Securities) Rules occurs. Upon termination of the credit facility, any outstanding indebtedness by me/us shall forthwith be repaid to you.

The collateral for the margin shall extend to and include all monies and securities of me/us which are now or which shall at any time hereafter be deposited with, transferred or caused to be transferred to or held by you, including without limitation

- (i) all dividends, rights, options and interest (if any) of whatsoever nature, which are paid or payable in respect of any securities in the Account,
- (ii) all securities, stocks, rights, money and other property accruing or offered at any time by way of substitution, redemption, bonus, preference, option or otherwise in respect thereof;
- (iii) all securities subscribed pursuant to any options, warrants or rights arising from any of such securities; and
- (iv) all allotments, offers, rights, benefits, advantages and accretions at any time arising or accruing in respect of any of them (the “Margin Collateral”).

I/We hereby expressly authorize you to receive and apply all sums of whatever nature received by you (or your nominee) in respect of any part of the margin Securities towards satisfaction of any payment, liability or other indebtedness that may be due or owed to you in such manner and at such time as you may absolutely determine.

Without prejudice to Clause 13 below or any other rights you may have, if I/we commit a default in payment on demand of the deposits of margins or any other sums payable to you hereunder, on the due date therefore, or otherwise we fail to comply with any of the terms herein contained, you shall have the rights to close such Margin Account(s) without notice to me/us and to dispose of any or all of the Securities held for or on my/our behalf and to apply the proceeds thereof and any cash deposit(s) to pay you all outstanding balances owed to you and I/we will be liable for any deficiency remaining after such Margin Account(s) has been closed as aforesaid and will pay the amount of such deficiency to you upon demand. In the event that any money remains after such Margin Account(s) had been closed in the manner as aforesaid such money shall be refunded to me/us;

- b) You are authorized, pursuant to section 6(3) of the Client Securities Rules, to dispose, or initiate a disposal by your nominee, of any of my/our securities or Margin Collateral (and you shall have absolute discretion to determine which securities or Margin Collateral are to be disposed of) for the purpose of settling any liability owed by or on behalf of me/us to you, your nominee or any other third party.

You are further authorized to do all acts and things which are necessary for or incidental to the performance of any activities or any of your right stipulated in this Agreement.

Except as provided in this Agreement, you shall not, unless with my/our oral or written direction or standing authority under the Client Securities Rules, deposit, transfer, lend, pledge, re-pledge or otherwise deal with any of the Margin Securities for any purpose.

I/We hereby acknowledge and agree that the value of the securities pledged under this agreement may fluctuate during any trading day, and that a demand from you for further deposit or margin may occur during the day. I/We hereby irrevocably agree without condition that should such a demand from you for further deposit or margin is not met by me/us within the specified time given by you at your sole discretion, you may, without further notice to me/us, liquidate any or all my/our pledged securities in order to satisfy the required deposit or margin amount. I/we further agree absolutely that I/we will not hold you responsible for any loss which may incur during the process of liquidation even if the value of the pledged securities rise back to a higher level after the liquidation.

- c) I/We agree not to pledge or charge any securities or monies in or forming part of any Account(s) without your prior written consent, or to sell, grant an option over, or otherwise deal in any securities or monies in or forming part of the Account(s). Unless otherwise agreed, I/we agree that when you have executed a purchase or sale transaction on my/our behalf, I/we will, by the due settlement date, make payment to you against delivery of or credit to my/our account for purchased securities, or make good delivery of sold securities to you against payment, as the case may be.

Unless otherwise agreed, I/we agree that should I/we fail to make such payment or delivery of securities by the due date as mentioned above, you are hereby authorized to:

- (i) in the case of a purchase transaction, to transfer or sell any such purchased securities to satisfy my/our obligations to you; or

- (ii) in the case of a sale transaction, to borrow and/or purchase such sold securities to satisfy my/our obligations to you.

I/We hereby acknowledge that I/we will be responsible to you for any loss, cost, fees and expenses in connection with the transaction as described above;

- d) You or any nominee appointed by you as aforesaid shall have the right to hold any securities and margin collateral on my/our behalf in accordance with your or their normal nominee arrangements including specific and/or general pooling arrangements, provided that I/we agree that in respect of any Securities held by you or any nominee neither you nor such nominee shall be bound to return to me/us the identical securities or Margin Collateral deposited with or acquired by you so long as the securities or Marginal Collateral returned to me/us are of the same class denomination and nominal amount and ranked pari passu with those originally deposited with, transferred to or acquired by you or such nominee (subject to any capital reorganization that may have occurred in the meantime);
- e) You may at any time and from time to time in your absolute discretion determine that the margin requirement in respect of any Margin Account be increased and in such event we hereby agree to deposit with you such cash or additional securities required by you to maintain a sufficient marginable collateral on such Margin Account to comply with the increased margin requirement.
- f) Every initial or subsequent deposit or cash into any Margin Account for the purpose of meeting any original or increased margin requirement as determined by you shall be made in such amount any currency as you may in your absolute discretion require.
- g) Any debit balances on the Margin Account(s) and (if applicable) any amount made available by you by way of credit in connection with transactions in Securities on an Margin Account or any amount otherwise arising to you at any time shall be charged with interest at such rate(s) that may be specified by you from time to time, but in any event not exceeding the Hong Kong Dollar Best Lending Rate quoted by the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation plus 6% per annum, as demanded by you (after as well as before any judgment) and be calculated and payable on the last day of each calendar month or upon any demand being made by you and with such charges you may make in connection with the opening, maintenance and operation of the Margin Account and such other charges as you may make for your services and facilities as notified by you to me/us from time to time in writing. For the avoidance of doubt, no interest shall accrue on any credit balance (if any) on the Margin Account(s). As such interest shall belong to you absolutely unless otherwise agreed by you in writing.

3. Miscellaneous

- a) You may record all telephone conversations or other forms of communication between you and me/us in order to verify our instruction to you. I/We agree to accept the contents of such recording as final and conclusive evidence of my/our instructions.
- b) You shall within the period from time to time specified under the Securities and Futures Ordinance or the subsidiary legislation related thereto or the rules of the relevant Exchange (as amended or replaced from time to time), send to me/us copies of the contract note relating to any transactions in Securities effected by you for the Account(s). You shall dispatch a copy of the contract note to me/us at the last mailing address in your records. I/we shall upon receipt of the contract note examine the same and promptly give notice to you if I/we consider that any details stated therein are incorrect in any respect. If you do not receive any written objection from me/us within the period stipulated in the contract note for this purpose, I/we shall be deemed to have accepted all the transaction details contained therein as true and accurate in all respects. I/We acknowledge and agree that any statement or other information given over the telephone or other electronic means as to the status of the Account(s) or any particular transaction is not binding on you. Subject to foresaid, your records shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on me/us as to the amount standing to the debit or credit of any of my/our Account(s).

- c) I/We specifically authorize you, in respect of all securities deposited by me/us with you or purchased or acquired by you on my/our behalf, and held by you for safe keeping, to register the same in our name, or in your name or in the name of a nominee appointed by you (including without limitation any of your associated entities), or deposit in safe custody in a segregated account which is designated as a trust account or client account and established and maintained in Hong Kong by you or your nominee with an authorized financial institution, an approved custodian or another intermediary licensed for dealing in securities.

I/We specifically authorize you, in respect of the margin Securities deposited with, or otherwise provided by me or on my/our behalf to, you, to deposit in safe custody in a segregated account which is designated as a trust account or client account and established and maintained in Hong Kong by you or your nominee with an authorized financial institution, an approved custodian or another intermediary licensed for dealing in securities. Any securities and Margin Collateral held by you and/or your nominee shall be at my/our sole risk. Neither you nor your nominee shall be under any obligation to insure me/us against any kind of risk, which obligation shall be my/our sole responsibility.

If in relation to any securities deposited with you but which are not registered in my/our name, and loss is suffered by you or your nominee, the Account(s) may be debited (or separate payment made by me/us if agreed by you) with such loss.

It is expressly acknowledged and agreed that the Securities may be purchased on my/our behalf in your name, in the name of a nominee appointed by you or in any street name in trust for me/us, or as I/we may direct and any transaction on any Account may be conducted by you through agents, clearing brokers or dealers which may include entities affiliated to you, that you shall have the right to disclose my/our identity to third parties in connection with any transaction on any Account where you in your sale discretion deem such disclosure necessary or appropriate.

- d) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in this Agreement you shall have the right in your absolute discretion at any time to close any Account in my/our name or maintained on my/our behalf without assigning any reason therefor.

- e) I/We hereby:
- (i) authorize you to take all actions which you consider necessary or appropriate with a view to obtaining from third party Securities of the description required for the purpose of settling a sale of any Security on any Account as directed by me/us where I/we fail to supply you with the Securities required for the said purpose, including in that connection to give and carry out undertakings as to the return of Securities of the same quality and description as so obtained;
 - (ii) agree to reimburse you upon demand for any premium, interest or other expense incurred by you as a result of any such action so taken, and
 - (iii) without prejudice and in addition to any other indemnity given by me/us to you hereunder, undertake to indemnify you and hold you harmless from any liability, cost or expense which you may incur or be subjected to arising out of or in connection with any such action so taken, including (without limitation) the inability to settle any sale as a result of any failure to obtain the necessary Securities notwithstanding any such action so taken.
4. In the event that you have to obtain the Securities, which you have purchased on my/our behalf, in the open market, following the failure of the selling broker to make delivery on the settlement day not due to any act or thing caused or permitted by me/us, you will be responsible for any difference in price and all incidental expenses in connection with such open market purchase provided that where a purchase or sale of Securities had been concluded between the seller and me/us or the selling broker (other than you) and you are instructed to record such transaction in accordance with the Rules of the Stock Exchange as aforesaid.
5. Any Securities deposited with you or purchased by you on my/our behalf and held by you for safekeeping may at your discretion either be:
- (i) registered in your name or in the name of your nominee; or in any street name; or
 - (ii) deposited in safe custody in a designated account of your banker or with another institution which, in the case of Securities traded in The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited, provided facilities for the safe custody of documents to the satisfaction of the Securities and Futures Commission. Any Securities kept outside Hong Kong shall be subject to the applicable laws, rules, regulations and customs and/or bye-laws.
6. If any dividends or other distributions or benefits are accrued from any Securities deposited with you which are not registered in my/our names, my/our account with you shall be credited on payment made to me/us as may be agreed with the proportion of the total number or amount of relative Securities held on my/our behalf.

When purchasing securities I/we may decide not to have the securities re-registered into either my/our name or the name of your nominee in order to avoid not being able to trade the securities during the registration period. If I/we decide not to re-register the securities, I/we acknowledge that I/we run the risk for foregoing any dividend which may be declared in respect of the securities.

In the event that the securities are registered in the name of your nominee, I/we understand that you will credit my/our account with any dividend or other distributions of benefits accrued in accordance with Clause 7 of this Agreement.

I/We acknowledge that if any securities are registered in my/our name(s) then the receipt by me/us of any dividend is a matter for me/us and the company in which the securities are concerned and/or the company's registrar.

7. Subject to any agreement in writing between you and me/us to the contrary, I/we authorize you at any time and from time to time to withhold, withdraw, pay to yourselves and retain for your own use and benefit absolutely any and all amounts at any time and from time to time earned, accrued, paid, credited or otherwise derived by way of interest or premium from the retention at any time or from time to time of (i) any amount in any trust account established by you under the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules of the Securities and Futures Ordinance and (ii) any amount at any time paid to or received or held by you or any of your nominee, agents, representatives, correspondents or bankers for my/our Accounts in any other circumstances, for any purpose of purchase to any transaction. Unless, the account balance amounts to above HK$50,000 or US$10,000 or equivalent to US$10,000 in other currencies. In which case you will be credited interest at such rates as you shall determine or I/we shall negotiate specially with you.
8. If an order cannot be executed or wholly executed, you shall be under no obligation to notify me/us immediately. I/we understand that due to various constraints, there will be delay in quoting prices or in dealing, you may not be able to trade at the prices quoted at any specific time. You are not liable for any loss arising by reason of your failing, or being unable, to comply with any terms of my/our instructions. Where you are unable to execute any instruction in full, you are entitled to effect partial performance only without prior reference to my/our confirmation. I/We shall in any event accept and be bound by the outcome when any request to execute orders is made. Any Day Order for purchase or sale of Securities placed by you at my/our request that has not been executed after the close of business of the relevant market or such other expiration date required by the Exchange and/or market shall be deemed to have been cancelled automatically (to the extent not executed if executed in part).

I/We hereby authorize you, at any time and at your absolute discretion, for the purpose of obtaining a better execution price and/or reducing the volume of instructions, to consolidate and/or disaggregate my/our instructions to purchase and/or sell Securities on my/our behalf with similar instructions received from your other customers, provided that such consolidation or disaggregation shall not result in the execution of the instructions at a price less favourable than that could have been achieved had the instructions been executed individually, and provided further that, in the event of there being insufficient Securities available to satisfy purchase orders so consolidated, the number of Securities actually purchased shall be given to each individual instruction in the order in which those orders were received by you.

I/We acknowledge that applicable laws and regulations may prohibit you from placing a sale order on my/our behalf when the order relates to Securities which I/we do not own ("Short Sell Order"). I/We undertake that:

- (i) prior to placing a Short Sell Order, I/we will notify you that the sale order involves short selling and I/we have entered into an effective securities borrowing arrangement or other form of cover acceptable to you, which will ensure that the Securities in question will be delivered prior to the requisite time of settlement; and
- (ii) prior to execution of such an order, I/we will provide you such documentary assurance that such order is adequately covered in such manner required by you, including without limitation documentary evidence relating to the relevant Securities borrowing transaction (for example, a certified copy of the relevant Securities borrowing agreement, written confirmation from the lender or such other evidence as you may require) to show that I/we have a presently exercisable and unconditional right to vest such securities in the purchaser.

9. Set-off, Lien and Combination of Account(s)

- a) In addition and without prejudice to any general liens, rights of set-off or other similar rights to which you may be entitled under any applicable laws or this Agreement, all securities, receivables, monies (in any currency) and other property of me/us (whether held by me/us individually or jointly with others), which you or any of your holding companies (as defined in the Companies Ordinance (Cap. 622 of the laws of Hong Kong)) or any subsidiary (as defined in the Companies Ordinance) of any such holding company or any of your subsidiaries (collectively the “Group Companies” and each a “Group Company”) or any other company or person otherwise associated with you including those with whom you have any form of dealing, brokerage, agency or clearing relationship (each of which is referred to as an “Associate”) may at any time be in the possession of you or an Associate for any purpose and in whatever capacity shall be subject to a general lien in your favour and shall be held as security for the payment and discharge of any indebtedness and other obligations or liabilities on any of my/our Account(s). In enforcing your lien, you shall have an absolute discretion to determine which Securities are to be sold and which contracts are to be closed.
- b) In addition and without prejudice to any general liens, rights of set-off or other similar rights which you may be entitled under any applicable laws or this Agreement, and subject to applicable rules and regulations, including without limitation, the Client Money Rules and the Client Securities Rules, you (for yourself and as agent for any of the Group Companies) may at any time without notice, notwithstanding any settlement of account(s) or other matters whatsoever, combine or consolidate all of or any of the Account(s) as are for the time being opened and maintained by me/us with you or any of Group Companies, including the excising Accounts, for use in connection with the trading in Securities and/or other instruments or investments of any description whatsoever and wheresoever issued, quoted, dealt in or located and set-off or transfer any sum (in any currency) standing to the credit of anyone or more such Accounts wherever suitable in or towards satisfaction of any of my/our indebtedness, obligation or liability to you on any Account or in any other respect whatsoever, whether such indebtedness, obligations or liabilities be present or future, actual or contingent, primary or collateral, several or joint, secured or unsecured and when such combination, set-off or transfer requires the conversion of the currency into another such conversion shall be calculated at the spot rate of exchange (as conclusively determined by you) prevailing in such foreign exchange market as you may in your absolute discretion by you) prevailing in such foreign exchange market as you may in your absolute discretion select on or about the date of the combination, set-off or transfer.
- c) I/we shall promptly report to you any apparent discrepancy or error(s) regarding orders executed on any Account(s) and take all necessary actions to mitigate the potential effects that may otherwise result therefrom.

10. Liability and Indemnity

- a) While you will use reasonable endeavors to comply with and fulfill any instruction I/we may give you concerning the operation of the Account(s) or in respect of any transaction in Securities to be made on the Account(s) and/or on my/our behalf but (i) you are entitled at your entire discretion to refuse to carry out any such instruction and shall not be obliged to give any reason for any such refusal and (ii) I/we hereby acknowledge that you will not be liable for any loss that I/we may suffer whether directly or indirectly as a result of any inability or failure on your part to comply with or fulfill any such instruction or without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, as a result of any loss caused directly or indirectly by government restrictions, stock exchange or stock market, changes in any applicable laws or regulations, suspension in trading, wars, strikes or other circumstances or conditions beyond your control.

37. The United States (“US”) Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (“FATCA”)

FATCA is a United States legislation that primarily aims to prevent tax evasion by US taxpayers by using non-US financial institutions and offshore investment instruments.

FATCA requires the Broker to apply a 30% US withholding tax on certain types of US source income paid to taxable clients and identify accounts held directly or indirectly by US Persons and to report to relevant account information to the US Internal Revenue Services (“IRS”). The Broker is required to report information on certain account holders, including name, address, US Tax Payer Identification Number, account number, account balance to the IRS directly or through the local competent authority. The Broker may request Client to provide US tax form (W-8/W-9 Forms) or a self-certification form to support the client’s claim of their non-US or US tax status.

Where Client fails to comply with requested information or documentation, the Broker is required to report to the IRS and apply a 30% US withholding tax on certain types of US source income paid to the Client.

Client should seek advice from professional tax advisors or refer to the IRS website.

RISK OF SECURITIES TRADING

The prices of securities fluctuate, sometimes dramatically. The price of a security may move up or down, and may become valueless, it is as likely that losses will be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling securities. This is a risk that you are prepared to accept.

RISK OR TRADING OPTIONS AND DERIVATIVE PRODUCTS

The risk of loss in trading options and derivative products is substantial. In some circumstances, you may sustain losses in excess of your initial margin funds. Placing contingent orders, such as “stop-loss” or “stop-limit” orders, will not necessarily avoid loss. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders. You may be called upon at short notice to deposit additional margin funds. If the required funds are not provided within the prescribed time, your position may be liquidated. You will remain liable for any resulting deficit in your account. You should therefore study and understand options and derivative products before you trade and carefully consider whether such trading is suitable in the light of your own financial position and investment objectives. If you trade options and derivative products you should be aware of exercise and expiration procedures and your rights and obligations upon exercise or expiry.

Trading in Derivative Products (including but not limited to derivative warrants, callable bull/bear contracts, equity-linked instruments and other products with embedded derivatives) involves risks. Do not invest in them unless you fully understand and are willing to assume the risks associated with them.

In respect of each issue of the derivative warrants, callable bull/bear contracts and equity-linked instruments, you should carefully review and understand the terms and conditions of the Derivative Products, together with the financial and other information of the issuer, as set out in the base listing document (including any addendum), and the relevant supplemental listing document.

You should also ensure that you understand the nature and risks of the derivative warrants, callable bull/bear contracts and equity-linked instruments, and should, where applicable, consult your own legal, tax, accounting, financial and other professional advisers to ensure that any decision to invest in the Derivative Products are suitable with regard to your specific circumstances and financial position.

RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH DERIVATIVES PRODUCTS

In the event that a derivative product issuer becomes insolvent and defaults on their listed securities, you will be considered as unsecured creditors and will have no preferential claims to any assets held by the issuer. You should therefore pay close attention to the financial strength and credit worthiness of derivative product issuers.

Uncollateralized derivative products are not asset backed. In the event of issuer bankruptcy, you can lose your entire investment.

You should read the listing documents to determine if a product is uncollateralized.

Derivative products such as derivative warrants and callable bull/bear contracts (CBBCs) are leveraged and can change in value rapidly according to the gearing ratio relative to the underlying assets. You should be aware that the value of a derivative product may fall to zero resulting in a total loss of the initial investment.

Derivative products have an expiry date after which the issue may become worthless. You should be aware of the expiry time horizon and choose a product with an appropriate lifespan for your trading strategy.

The price of a derivative product may not match its theoretical price due to outside influences such as market supply and demand factors. As a result, actual traded prices can be higher or lower than the theoretical price.

You, when trading derivative products with underlying assets not denominated in Hong Kong dollars, are also exposed to exchange rate risk. Currency rate fluctuations can adversely affect the underlying asset value and the derivative product price.

The Exchange requires all derivative product issuers to appoint a liquidity provider for each individual issue. The role of liquidity providers is to provide two way quotes to facilitate trading of their products. In the event that a liquidity provider defaults or ceases to fulfill its role, you may not be able to buy or sell the product until a new liquidity provider has been assigned.

ADDITIONAL RISK INVOLVED IN TRADING DERIVATIVE WARRANTS

All things being equal, the value of a derivative warrant will decay over time as it approaches its expiry date. Derivative warrants should therefore not be viewed as long term investments.

Prices of derivative warrants can increase or decrease in line with the implied volatility of underlying asset price. You should be aware of the underlying asset volatility.

ADDITIONAL RISKS INVOLVED IN TRADING CALLABLE BULL/BEAR CONTRACTS (CBBCs)

You, when trading CBBCs, should be aware of their intraday “knockout” or mandatory call feature. A CBBC will cease trading when the underlying asset value equals the mandatory call price/level as stated in the listing documents. You will only be entitled to the residual value of the terminated CBBC as calculated by the product issuer in accordance with the listing documents. You should also note that the residual value can be zero.

The issue price of a CBBC includes funding costs. Funding costs are gradually reduced over time as the CBBC moves towards expiry. The longer the duration of the CBBC, the higher the total funding costs. In the event that a CBBC is called, you will lose the funding costs for the entire lifespan of the CBBC. The formula for calculating the funding costs are stated in the listing documents.

RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH EQUITY LINKED INSTRUMENTS (ELI)

You are exposed to price movements in the underlying security and the stock market, the impact of dividends and corporate actions and counterparty risks. You must also be prepared to accept the risk of receiving the underlying shares or a payment less than your original investment.

You may lose part or all of your investment if the price of the underlying security moves against your investment view.

You should note that any dividend payment on the underlying security may affect its price and the payback of the ELI at expiry due to ex-dividend pricing. Investors should also note that issuers may make adjustments to the ELI due to corporate actions on the underlying security.

While most ELI offer a yield that is potentially higher than the interest on fixed deposits and traditional bonds, the return on investment is limited to the potential yield of the ELI.

You should consult your brokers on fees and charges related to the purchase and sale of ELI and payment / delivery at expiry. The potential yields disseminated by HKEx have not taken fees and charges into consideration.

RISKS OF CLIENT ASSETS RECEIVED OR HELD OUTSIDE HONG KONG

Client assets received or held by the licensed or registered person outside Hong Kong are subject to the applicable laws and regulations of the relevant overseas jurisdiction which may be different from the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571) and the rules made thereunder.

Consequently, such client assets may not enjoy the same protection as that conferred on client assets received or held in Hong Kong.

RISK OF PROVIDING AN AUTHORITY TO HOLD MAIL OR TO DIRECT MAIL TO THIRD PARTIES

If you provide the licensed or registered person with an authority to hold mail or to direct mail to third parties, it is important for you to promptly collect in person all contract notes and statements of your account and review them in detail to ensure that any anomalies or mistakes can be detected in a timely fashion.

RISK OF TRADING GROWTH ENTERPRISE MARKET STOCKS

Growth Enterprise Market (GEM) stocks involve a high Investment risk. In particular, companies may list on GEM with neither a track record of profitability nor any obligation to forecast future profitability. GEM stocks may be very volatile and illiquid. You should make the decision to invest only after due and careful consideration. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of GEM mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.

Current information on GEM stocks may only be found on the internet website operated by The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited. GEM companies are usually not required to issue paid announcements in gazette newspapers.

This statement does not purport to disclose all risks and other significant aspects of GEM.

You should undertake your own research on the trading of securities on GEM before commencing any trading activities, and should seek independent professional advice if you are uncertain of or have not understood any aspect of this disclosure statement or any aspect of the nature and risks involved in trading of GEM stocks.

RISK OF PROVIDING AN AUTHORITY TO REPLEDGE YOUR SECURITIES COLLATERAL ETC.

There is risk if you provide the licensed or registered person with an authority that allows it to apply your securities or securities collateral pursuant to a securities borrowing and lending agreements, repledge your securities collateral for financial accommodation or deposit your securities collateral as collateral for the discharge and satisfaction of its settlement obligations and liabilities.

If your securities or securities collateral are received or held by the licensed or registered person in Hong Kong, the above arrangement is allowed only if you consent in writing. Moreover, unless you are a professional investor, your authority must specify the period for which it is current and be limited to not more than 12 months. If you are a professional investor, these restrictions do not apply.

Additionally, your authority may be deemed to be renewed (i.e. without your written consent) if the licensed or registered person issues you a reminder at least 14 days prior to the expiry of the authority, and you do not object to such deemed renewal before the expiry date of your then existing authority.

You are not required by any law to sign these authorities. But an authority may be required by licensed or registered persons, for example, to facilitate margin lending to you or to allow your securities or securities collateral to be lent to or deposited as collateral with third parties. The licensed or registered person should explain to you the purposes for which one of these authorities is to be used.

If you sign one of these authorities and your securities or securities collateral are lent to or deposited with third parties, those third parties will have a lien or charge on your securities or securities collateral. Although the licensed or registered person is responsible to you for securities or securities collateral lent or deposited under your authority, a default by it could result in the loss of your securities or securities collateral.

A cash account not involving securities borrowing and lending is available from most licensed or registered persons. If you do not require margin facilities or do not wish your securities or securities collateral to be lent or pledged, do not sign the above authorities and ask to open this type of cash account.

RISK OF MARGIN TRADING

The risk of loss in financing a transaction by deposit of collateral is significant. You may sustain losses in excess of your cash and any other assets deposited as collateral with the dealer or securities margin financier. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute contingent orders, such as “stop-loss” or “stop-limit” orders. You may be called upon at short notice to make additional margin deposits or interest payments. If the required margin deposits or interest payments are not made within the prescribed time, your collateral may be liquidated without your consent. Moreover, you will remain liable for any resulting deficit in your account and interest charged on your account. You should therefore carefully consider whether such a financing arrangement is suitable in light of your own financial position and investment objectives.

RISK OF TRADING NASDAQ-AMEX SECURITIES AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE OF HONG KONG LIMITED

The securities under the Nasdaq-Amex Pilot Program (PP) are aimed at sophisticated investors. You should consult your dealer and become familiarized with the PP before trading in the PP securities. You should be aware that the PP securities are not regulated as a primary or secondary listing on the Main Board or the Growth Enterprise Market of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited.

RISKS OF ELECTRONIC TRADING

Access to the Internet or other electronic devices may be limited or unavailable during periods of peak demand, market volatility, systems upgrades or maintenance or for other reasons. Transactions conducted through the Internet or other electronic devices may be subject to interruption, transmission blackout, and delayed transmission due to unpredictable traffic congestion and other reasons beyond the Company control. Internet is, due to technical limitation, an inherently unreliable medium of communication. As a result of such unreliability, there may be delays in the transmission and receipt of Instructions and other information and that this may result in delays in the execution of Instructions and/or the execution of Instructions at prices different from those prevailing prices at the time the Instructions were given. Moreover, communications and personal data may be accessed by unauthorized third party; and there are risks of misunderstanding or errors in any communication and that such risks shall be absolutely borne by you. You acknowledge and agree that it shall not usually be possible to cancel an Instruction after it has been given.

RISK OF TRADING EXCHANGE TRADED FUNDS (ETFs)

Trading in Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) involves risks. It is important that you understand and critically assess the implications arising due to different ETF structures. You should understand the nature and risks before trading in ETFs.

You should carefully review and understand the terms and conditions of the ETFs, together with the financial statements and other information set out in the offering document, and should where applicable, consult your own legal, tax, accounting, financial and other professional advisers to ensure that any decision to invest in the ETFs are suitable with regard to your specific circumstances and financial position.

ETFs are typically designed to track the performance of certain indices, market sectors, or groups of assets such as stocks, bonds, or commodities. ETF managers may use different strategies to achieve this goal, but in general they do not have the discretion to take defensive positions in declining markets. You must be prepared to bear the risk of loss and volatility associated with the underlying index/assets.

Tracking errors refer to the disparity in performance between an ETF and its underlying index/assets. Tracking errors can arise due to factors such as the impact of transaction fees and expenses incurred to the ETF, changes in composition of the underlying index/assets, and the ETF manager's replication strategy. (The common replication strategies include full replication/representative sampling and synthetic replication which are discussed in more detail below.)

An ETF may be traded at a discount or premium to its Net Asset Value (NAV). This price discrepancy is caused by supply and demand factors, and may be particularly likely to emerge during periods of high market volatility and uncertainty. This phenomenon may also be observed for ETFs tracking specific markets or sectors that are subject to direct investment restrictions.

You, when trading ETFs with underlying assets not denominated in Hong Kong dollars are also exposed to exchange rate risk. Currency rate fluctuations can adversely affect the underlying asset value, also affecting the ETF price.

Securities Market Makers (SMMs) are Exchange Participants that provide liquidity to facilitate trading in ETFs. Although most ETFs are supported by one or more SMMs, there is no assurance that active trading will be maintained. In the event that the SMMs default or cease to fulfill their role, you may not be able to buy or sell the product.

An ETF using a full replication strategy generally aims to invest in all constituent stocks/assets in the same weightings as its benchmark. ETFs adopting a representative sampling strategy will invest in some, but not all of the relevant constituent stocks/assets. For ETFs that invest directly in the underlying assets rather than through synthetic instruments issued by third parties, counterparty risk tends to be less of concern.

ETFs utilizing a synthetic replication strategy use swaps or other derivative instruments to gain exposure to a benchmark.

Currently, synthetic replication ETFs can be further categorized into two forms:

i. Swap-based ETFs

- Total return swaps allow ETF managers to replicate the benchmark performance of ETFs without purchasing the underlying assets.
- Swap-based ETFs are exposed to counterparty risk of the swap dealers and may suffer losses if such dealers default or fail to honor their contractual commitments.

ii. Derivative embedded ETFs

- ETF managers may also use other derivative instruments to synthetically replicate the economic benefit of the relevant benchmark. The derivative instruments may be issued by one or multiple issuers.
- Derivative embedded ETFs are subject to counterparty risk of the derivative instruments' issuers and may suffer losses if such issuers default or fail to honor their contractual commitments.

Even where collateral is obtained by an ETF, it is subject to the collateral provider fulfilling its obligations. There is a further risk that when the right against the collateral is exercised, the market value of the collateral could be substantially less than the amount secured resulting in significant loss to the ETF.

RISK OF INVESTING BONDS

There is a risk that the issuer may fail to pay you the interest or principal as scheduled. When the interest rate rises, the price of a fixed rate bond will normally drop. If you want to sell your bond before it matures, you may get less than your purchase price. If you hold a callable bond, when the interest rate goes down, the issuer may redeem the bond before maturity. If this happens, you have to re-invest the proceeds, the yields on other bonds in the market will generally be less favourable.

Issuer of a bond may be unable to make the coupon and principal payments specified for a bond which the client invested. The rate at which coupon and principal cash flows from a bond are reinvested will be lower than the expected rate in effect when the bond was purchased. Bond market is considerable thinner than stock market, secondary market for bond trading is limited. Inflation risk is a risk that the rate of price increases in the economy deteriorates the returns associated with the bonds. An investor is exposed to currency risk if a bond is denominated in a currency other than his home currency. There may be a single event or circumstance that could have a major effect on the ability of an issuer to repay a bond obligation.

RISK OF INVESTING IN REMINBI-DENOMINATED PRODUCTS

Renminbi products are subject to investment risk and may not be principal protected i.e. the assets that the products invest in or referenced to may fall as well as rise, resulting in gains or losses to the product. This means that you may suffer a loss even if renminbi appreciates. Depending on the nature of the renminbi product and its investment objective, there may be other risk factors specific to the product which you should consider. You should always understand the nature, investment objective, strategy, key features and risks of the renminbi products and assess whether these products are suitable for you in terms of your own investment needs and risk profile before you invest in the renminbi products. You should seek professional advice if in doubt.

Renminbi products are also subject to liquidity risk as renminbi products are a new type of product and there may not be regular trading or an active secondary market. Therefore you may not be able to sell your investment in the product on a timely basis, or you may have to sell the product at a deep discount to its value.

Renminbi products are subject to the credit and insolvency risks of their issuers. You should consider carefully the creditworthiness of the issuers before investing. Furthermore, as a renminbi product may invest in derivative instruments, counterparty risk may also arise as the default by the derivative issuers may adversely affect the performance of the renminbi products and result in substantial losses.

In general, a non-Mainland (including Hong Kong) investor who holds a local currency other than renminbi will be exposed to currency risk if he invests in a renminbi product. This is because renminbi is a restricted currency and subject to exchange controls, you may have to convert the local currency into renminbi when you invest in a renminbi product. When you redeem/sell your investment, you may also need to convert the renminbi received upon redemption/sale of your investment product into the local currency (even if redemptions/sale proceeds are paid in renminbi). During these processes, you will incur currency conversion costs and will also be exposed to currency risk. In other words, even if the price of the renminbi product remains the same when you purchase it and when you redeem/sell it, you will still incur a loss when you convert the redemption/sale proceeds into local currency if renminbi has depreciated. Like any other currency, the exchange rate of renminbi may rise or fall. Further, renminbi is subject to conversion restrictions and foreign exchange control mechanism.

RISKS OF TRADING IN OTHER JURISDICTION

Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions, including markets formally linked to a domestic market, may expose you to additional risk. Such markets may be subject to regulation which may offer different or diminished investor protection. Before you trade you should enquire about any rules relevant to your particular transactions. Your local regulatory authority will be unable to compel the enforcement of the rules of regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where your transactions have been effected. You should ask the firm with which you deal for details about the types of redress available in both your home jurisdiction and other relevant jurisdictions before you start to trade.

SHANGHAI-HONG KONG STOCK CONNECT

Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect is a mutual market access programme established by the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Exchange”), Shanghai Stock Exchange (“SSE”) and China Securities Depository and Clearing Corporation Limited (“China Clear”), through which investors in Hong Kong and Mainland China can trade and settle shares listed on the other market respectively via the exchange and clearing house in their local market.

Hong Kong and Overseas investors will be allowed to trade SSE Securities through Shanghai-Hong Kong Connect (“Northbound trading”), Mainland investors will be accepted to trade the Exchange Securities through Shanghai-Hong Kong Connect (“Southbound trading”).

Trading via Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect

- All trading must be conducted on SSE, i.e. no over-the-count or manual trades are allowed.
- Naked short selling is not allowed.
- Foreign shareholding restriction (including the forced-sale arrangement) is in place and the Broker has the right to “force-sell” the Client’s shares upon receiving the forced-sale notification from the Exchange.

- The Broker has the right to cancel orders in case of contingency such as hoisting of Typhoon Signal No.8 in Hong Kong.

- The Client must comply with SSE Rules and other applicable laws of Mainland China relating to Northbound trading.
- The Broker may forward the Client’s identity to the Exchange which may on-forward to SSE surveillance or investigation purposes.
- If the SSE Rules are breached, or the disclosure and other obligations referred to in the SSE Listing Rules or SSE Rules are breached, SSE has the power to carry out an investigation, and may, through the Exchange, require the Broker to provide relevant information and materials and to assist in its investigation.
- The Exchange may upon SSE’s request, require the Broker to reject orders from the Client.
- The Client accepts the risks concerned in Northbound trading including but not limited to prohibition of trading SSE Securities, being liable or responsible for breaching the SSE Listing Rules and other applicable laws and regulations.

The Broker shall not be liable for any foreign exchange losses in the Client's account as a result of the above currency conversion for the Client in such circumstances.

Not protected by Investor Compensation Fund

- Any Northbound or Southbound trading under Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect will not be covered by the Hong Kong's Investor Compensation Fund.
- Hong Kong's Investor Compensation Fund is established to pay compensation to investors of any nationality who suffer pecuniary losses as a result of default of a licensed intermediary or authorized financial institution in relation to exchange-traded products in Hong Kong.
- As far as Southbound trading is concerned, since Mainland securities brokers are neither licensees nor registered institutions with the SFC in Hong Kong and they are not regulated by the SFC, the Investor Compensation Fund will not cover Southbound trading via Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect.
- As for Northbound trading, according to Securities and Futures Ordinance, the Investor Compensation Fund will only cover products traded in Hong Kong's recognized securities market (the Exchange) and recognized futures market (Hong Kong Futures Exchange Limited, "HKFE"). Since default matters in Northbound trading via Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect do not involve products listed or traded on the Exchange or HKFE, so similar to the case of investors trading overseas securities, Client will not be covered by the Investor Compensation Fund.
- On the other hand, according to the Measures for the Administration of Securities Investor Protection Fund, the functions of China Securities Investor Protection Fund ("CSIPF") include "indemnifying creditors as required by China's relevant policies in case a securities company is subjected to compulsory regulatory measures including dissolution, closure, bankruptcy and administrative takeover by China Securities Regulatory Commission ("CSRC") and custodian operation" or "other functions approved by the State Council". As far as Hong Kong investors participating in Northbound trading are concerned, since they are carrying out Northbound trading through securities brokers in Hong Kong and these brokers are not Mainland brokers, therefore they are not protected by CSIPF on the Mainland.

Quotas Used Up

- When the respective aggregate quota balance for Northbound and Southbound trading is less than the daily quota, the corresponding buy orders will be suspended on the next trading day (sell orders will still be accepted) until the aggregate quota balance returns to the daily quota level.
- Once the daily quota is used up, acceptance of the corresponding buy orders will also be suspended and no further buy orders will be accepted for the remainder of the day. Buy orders which have been accepted will not be affected by the using up of the daily quota, while sell orders will be continued to be accepted. Depending on the aggregate quota balance situation, buying services will be resumed on the following trading day.

Trading day

Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect will only operate on days when both markets are open for trading and when banks in both markets are open on the corresponding settlement days. So it is possible that there are occasions when it is a normal trading day for the Mainland market but Hong Kong investors cannot carry out any A-share trading. Client should take note of the days Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect is open for business and decide according to Client's own risk tolerance capability whether or not to take on the risk of price fluctuations in A-shares during the time when Shanghai-Hong Kong Connect is not trading.

Restrictions on Selling Imposed by Front-end Monitoring

Client must ensure to have sufficient shares in their accounts opened with the Broker when placing sell orders for trading Shanghai Stock Exchange Securities. If the shares are kept in an account opened with another Exchange Participant or a custodian, Client must first transfer the shares to the Broker on the day before trading day in order to sell the share on trading day.

The Recalling of Eligible Stocks

When a stock is recalled from the scope of eligible stocks for trading via Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect, the stock can only be sold but restricted from being bought. This may affect the investment portfolio or strategies of the Client. Client should therefore pay close attention to the list of eligible stocks provided and renewed from time to time by SSE and the Exchange.

Currency Risks

Client holds a local currency other than RMB will be exposed to currency risk if Client invests in a RMB product due to the need for the conversion of the local currency into RMB. During the conversion, Client will also incur conversion costs.
